Description

You will find lockable cabinets in more or less every industrial operation. Everywhere where there is a demand for closed, lockable storage whether it is to protect costly tools or expensive spare-parts or store nuts and bolts, documents or computers.

The benefits derived from using Constructor's Lockable Cabinets at industrial work stations are easy to see and casters make the cabinets portable and therefore quick to relocate when layouts change. Lockable Cabinets are also often found in schools and stores facilities in municipal and governmental institutions.
